

Customized Corporate Sponsorships

Corporate Sponsorships are designed to meet your objectives with a high return. Investment and Visibility in Our Communities About Us

Life Management Center was founded by Janice Leonard on April 8, 1991, under the former name Cultural Awareness. The organization's initial mission focused on providing support for kids that suffer from mental health issues, at risk for gang violence, anger management, depression, victims of human and sex trafficking, LGBTQ youth, and children with incarcerated parents. Ms. Leonard has made it her mission to make sure every child has access to the necessary tools for their success. The Life Management Center founder believes, "You can only limit yourself."

Over the years, Life Management Center has recognized climate change in our school system, indicating that there's a broader need for mental health services in the US. In response, Life Management currently offers community-based mental health services including therapy, life skills education, case management, and housing assistance for kids and families in the greater Houston area.

Since January 1, 2022, there have been over 33 school shootings in America resulting in injury or death. 26 students and 3 teachers have been killed, with another 72 individuals injured while simply trying to teach and learn. But the toll doesn't end there. In the aftermath of these events, parents, siblings, grandparents, cousins, spouses, neighbors, first responders, and surviving students and teachers will now likely suffer from PTSD for years to come. If educational leaders were routinely trained in the ability to recognize potential red flags, student outcries, and bullying, some of these tragedies could have potentially been avoided. Now, Life Management has made it its mission to make sure our children have a safe environment to learn.

Breaking this cycle and enriching the lives of at-risk youth is our highest calling. We will never stop working to provide the youth with the resources they need.
